PRESIDENT'S BRIEFS

Thank-you to Mark Curran for running our meeting in June while Linda and I were on a wonderful vacation in Kentucky.

Other than some potential member problems, everything is running smoothly in the San Diego IPSSA Chapter. Be sure you get your Blue Card to Paul Grimes to avoid a fine.

This will be our last meeting before the picnic in August. Remember that attending the picnic does not count as attending a meeting, but it is a fun family event that I urge all of you to attend.

Look at the Region 7 report in this Skimmer and you will see a web site which includes the IPSSA Water Watcher Tag and a video of Javier Payan appearing on Fox television discussing water and pool safety. This kind of publicity is excellent for our organization. If you haven't done so already, please make sure that all your customers receive a water watcher tag during the summer.

Mike Gregg, President

Please keep Ladd Carlson in your thoughts and prayers. He's having kidney transplant surgery Fri. July 13th. Ladd's pools are covered.

Water chem. books - SCP is now distributing the new water chem books by Dr. Lowry. They are also available for purchase through your chapter and IPSSA Inc.

Water Safety - Because of the efforts of the PR firm hired by IPSSA, water safety got some more exposure, this time on Fox 6 San Diego, Fri., June 29, 10 pm. Fire Captain Jon Hannibal and I were interviewed for "Swimming Safe." Article Link: http://www.fox6.com/news/local/story.aspx?content_id=ee72120c-e184-491e-bd18-2a9eecff9d69

Things to do in July -

- Use sunscreen.
- Wear hats.
- Stay hydrated - drink lots of water.

PROTECT YOURSELF FROM HEAT ILLNESS

In a one-year investigation of 25 cases of suspected heat-related illnesses, Cal/OSHA found that more than half of the heat illness victims died, and almost one third of them required hospitalization. Heat illness can kill you. During hot weather you must take the simple steps outlined here to protect yourself.

What is heat illness? Heat illness can be one or more serious medical conditions like heat cramps, fainting, heat exhaustion and heatstroke.

What causes heat illness? Heat illness occurs when your body keeps in more heat than it loses and your temperature rises. You are at greater risk of heat illness when you:

- Are dehydrated. Dehydration is your worst enemy during hot weather.
- Are not used to working in the heat.
- Are in poor health.
- Have had heat illness before.

What you can do to prevent heat illness. Your two best defenses against the heat are:

- Getting out of the sun or finding a cool resting place when you are starting to overheat and need to cool down.
- Drinking cool, fresh water throughout the day (four 8-oz cups per hour) during hot weather. That is how much water your body loses just by sweating. Don't wait until you are thirsty to drink.

Other things you can do

- Tell your supervisor immediately if you think you are getting sick from the heat.
- Know the location(s) of your closest drinking water supplies.
- Choose water over sodas and other drinks containing caffeine or sugar.
- You are better off avoiding alcohol altogether. The more you drink, even beer, the more dehydrated you will get.
- Always know who and how to call for help when you start a new work day.
- Know the symptoms to watch for:
 - discomfort, excessive sweating, headache, poor concentration, muscle pain, cramping, dizziness, fatigue, irritability, loss of coordination, throwing-up, blurry vision, confusion, lack of sweating, fainting, seizures.
- If you are new to working in the heat, tell your employer. Your employer should have procedures to allow you to adjust during your first two weeks of hot weather work.
- Get your doctor's advice if you know you have risk factors for heat illness, such as:
 - illnesses like diabetes

- taking medications or over-the-counter drugs

- being on a low salt diet

- Keep track of your coworkers. You all need to watch out for each other. If anyone looks like they are not okay, check them out.
- After work take a cold bath or shower.

Your rights. If you are working outdoors, by law, your employer must guarantee you all of the following:

- access to fresh, cool drinking water throughout the day.
- access to shade (all employees) or an equally cool spot (if you are not an agricultural worker) for 5 minutes at a time to rest and cool down.
- training on how to work safely in the heat, including how to call for emergency services if someone is overcome by the heat.

Manufacturers’ Rebate

Jon McArthur turned over a check for one of the Pentair filters, all of which have been sold.

Continuing Education Proposal

Jon McArthur presented his proposal for a Continuing Education point system that would require members to obtain 10 points every two years. The proposal was discussed, will also be discussed at upcoming meetings and put to a vote of the membership at the October meeting.

Jon’s point is that we are a professional organization and, as the leading chapter in IPSSA, we should require education for our members. 10 Points are easy to earn and simple to track. Refer to the Proposal in this Skimmer newsletter (on page 5).

Prospective Members

The chapter had voted in a member at the June meeting who had not provided all information to meet membership requirements. (in pool business 1 year and proof of a business license) A motion was made to rescind the vote and it passed.

Bill Peck advised members that employees and subcontractors must be insured to be hired by members.

Richard Hayes (Richard’s Pool Service with 37 accounts) was voted in as a member tonight.

Gaery Blizard and Clint Jenkins are in the membership process. Any other prospective members should see Bill Peck.

Other Business

Former member Joe Reid spoke about the economics of pool service and is offering a service ($50) to analyze cost and profits.

The Region 7 Picnic will be Sunday August 19 at De Anza Cove. See flyer in Skimmer.

Water Safety

John Silcox asked how many members have distributed Water Watcher tags and the brochure. He advised that a 14 month old girl fell in a pool, but was OK after being under for several minutes. Eric Peterson mentioned that a 4 year old drown with 6 adults in attendance.

Continuing Education

Stephen Heyer passed out several checks to members who attended the Western Pool & Spa Show. Stephen said that the program has only paid $2,661 to date and the fund has much more money.

Stephen showed chapter Horror File examples and encouraged members to provide photos to win $25 for the most horrible.

Good of the Order

Bob Fowler said that members need to keep up with education and learn about automatic controls and salt systems.

We would like to thank Javier Payan, Region 7 Director for attending. Javier spoke about Public Relations airtime that we have on the water safety issue and encouraged us to send out Water Watcher tags and brochures.

The meeting adjourned at 8:10pm.

Attending - Mike Gregg, Mark Curran, Jim Bauer, Paul Grimes, Bill Peck and Stephen Heyer.

Upcoming Chapter Directory

We would like to include photos of Chapter Supporters in the upcoming directory. Additionally, we may not hire a professional photographer as we believe most members are happy with their 2006 photos. We will test Paul Grimes’ digital camera at upcoming meetings for quality and lighting.

Prospective Members

Bill Peck may have 1 prospective member up for vote in July, pending water chemistry test results. There are a couple more in the pipeline.

Member section, independent of the main public page. Paul Grimes will be working on it in July.

With increased use of the internet, the Board discussed our well-established referral web site (poolservicepros.com), which ranks high on Google for searches of local pool service companies. Blue Cards on the Skimmer now sport a check box for those who DO NOT want their companies posted on poolservicepros.com. We want the site to provide information on members eager to provide services, so those not interested in new business may opt out and avoid phone calls.

Additional options will be provided in the verification process for the new directory (at October general meeting). Any member who would like to add, delete, change, enhance their listing can contact Paul Grimes 619-223-4523 or aquawise@cox.net via e-mail.

Other Business

Now that Paul Grimes and Bill Peck have coordinated the use of the new chapter laptop and projector, watch for increased use of these educational tools at upcoming meetings.

Meeting adjourned about 10 p.m.

Prospective member update (7/11):

Clint Jenkins is up for a vote in July. In process: Garey Blizard, Living Water Pool Care, Matt Sweeney, Matt's Pool Service, and Abraham Michel, Michel's Pool Service.
